NEW YORK June 3, 2019 The Movement Management Advisors, the strategic advisory firm led by Darien Dash, today announced that Darien Dash was a featured panelist at the Pot or Not conference, held on May 31, 2019 in Southampton, New York. Pot or Not was the latest Or Not Experience, the proprietary conference collaboration between Loeb.nyc and Bonin Ventures geared towards brand marketers, designed to separate the hype from the real conversation around the latest marketing trends. The conference speakers were curated by PRØHBTD, the premier online destination for modern cannabis enthusiasts.

Darien Dash is among the first to identify and act upon the substantial long-term commercial potential of the legal cannabis industry, having structured and advised several leading Cannabis funds and consumer-facing brands. Mr. Dash has participated in the acquisition over a dozen licenses in the processing, cultivation, and retail verticals in California, Colorado, and Oregon. He continues his involvement by advising several leading MSO brands as they chart their course ahead toward national consolidation of THC operations and migrate their brand strategies from THC to CBD and beyond. His remarks at the Pot or Not conference focused on the current and future trends in the industry and what Dash is predicting to be a major intersection of Urban Culture, Multi State Operators, existing Consumer Packaged Goods companies and new and evolving Cannabis molecules like CBG in the coming 2019 “Crobotober” harvest and the impact this will all have on the 2020 Fiscal Year.
